PREFACE

"To bring together the records of the past and to house them in the buildings where they will be preserved for the use of men living in the future, a nation must believe in three things. It must believe in the past. It must believe in the future. It must, above all, believe in the capacity of its people so to learn from the past that they can gain in judgment for the creation of the future," President Roosevelt has said.

The purpose of the Historical Records Survey of the Work Projects Administration is to survey, preserve, and render accessible historical source materials of all kinds. The work of the project is divided into the following main classifications: Public records, private manuscripts, church records, and early American portraits. Copies of the publications of the Massachusetts Historical Records Survey are distributed to prominent libraries throughout the nation and to the larger and more centrally located libraries in Massachusetts.

Guide to the Manuscript Collections in the Worcester Historical Society is one of a series of inventories and guides to manuscript collections issued by the Historical Records Survey in Massachusetts. Earlier publications are listed at the end of this volume. Forthcoming publications in the field of manuscripts include a calendar list of the Abby Kelley Foster papers, and a Guide to Manuscript Collections in Massachusetts (outside Boston).

This volume is designed to provide a guide to the manuscript collections deposited in the Worcester Historical Society. It is not presented as an exhaustive study nor as a complete description of every individual manuscript in any systematic arrangement of style. The method used of describing the more than 25,000 manuscript items falls within the division of the physical arrangement. Papers belonging to individual families have been treated as collections and are described in Part I of this guide as Family Collections. The largest of these collections are the Adams, Beaman, Conant, and Miller papers. Of no less importance but smaller, are the Sumner, Goffe, Stephen and Abby Kelley Foster, and the Merriam papers. It may be noticed that more space has sometimes been given to the description of small collections of papers than to those of greater bulk. Upon examination, however, it will be observed that a large collection may be composed chiefly of one type of material, while a smaller one may be composed of miscellaneous papers covering many types and subjects; the materials may be included within the life span of an individual and may be very brief, or they may cover papers of members of several successive generations of a family; the records may refer to one business, or, as in the Beaman collection, cover important events relating to the incorporation and growth of several towns in which members of the family served as officers. Part II records, by groups, material pertaining to Worcester, its citizens, and its associations; to individual towns and cities within Worcester County; to Massachusetts towns and cities outside Worcester County; and to New England states by locality. This grouping follows the system used by the Society.

Two large collections of manuscripts are entirely separate from the papers described in the preceding sections: military papers and the Natural History Society collection. The military papers are in addition to any listed among the family collections or referred to by locality. The Society has on exhibition, framed and in glass cases, about 100 manuscripts, and these have been listed in chronological order in the Appendix, since they have not apparently been considered as belonging to any specific group.

In describing the quantity of a manuscript collection, the term "volume" is used to connote bound manuscripts; "piece" means an unbound manuscript; "item" is used to include both terms. Parentheses about dates indicate life-spans. Arrangement of Part I is alphabetical by family name; in the descriptions of collections, chronology is observed so far as practicable.

This volume was compiled and edited by Mrs. Ethel L. Wood of the Boston office. Material was gathered by the manuscripts unit of the Massachusetts Historical Records Survey, under the direction of William S. Piper, Supervisor of the Worcester district, and it was prepared in accordance with instructions and procedures issued by the Washington office of the Survey. The cover for this volume was designed by Maurice R. Wheeler, and the micrographing was in charge of Marcus Louis Haffer.

The Survey is indebted to the officers of the Worcester Historical Society for their cooperation, and to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, Frederic W. Cook, without whose sponsorship this project would not be possible.

FOREWORD

Four men met on the evening of January 23, 1875, at the home of Samuel E. Staples and agreed that an organization was needed in Worcester that would preserve material and knowledge relating to the early history of the city. They were ordinary citizens untrained as archivists, historians or collectors, nor were they wealthy. The local directory listed them as agent, student, grocer, and furniture repairer, but what they lacked in experience and funds was offset by their enthusiasm. By 1877, they had gathered around them enough interested friends to incorporate under the name of the "Worcester Society of Antiquity" with 37 charter members. Among the objects set forth in the certificate of incorporation were "cultivating and encouraging among its members a love and admiration for antiquarian research and archaeological science; and, so far as possible, to rescue from oblivion any historical matter that might otherwise be lost; also, the collection and preservation of antiquarian relics of every description."

The first small quarters were soon outgrown owing to the zeal of the members as collectors. The gift of land and a substantial sum of money from Stephen Salisbury in 1891 made possible the erection of the building, still occupied by the Society, which long ago became inadequate for the proper housing of the great amount of material gathered. In 1919, the name was changed to the "Worcester Historical Society." The Society now has about 400 members.

The Society has never specialized in any field. The museum contains many thousand articles and pictures showing in a material way the development and customs particularly as they relate to central New England. The library shelves about 50,000 volumes, one section being devoted to the works of Worcester authors. The manuscript collection of about 25,000 pieces is now in condition to be of easy access to research workers. For this we are indebted to the Historical Records Survey of the Work Projects Administration, the compilation and systematic filing being the work of the Supervisor of the local area who is one of our members.

The Society publishes annually its Proceedings. From time to time, brochures on local history prepared by its members are printed. For several years the particular activity of the Society has been a series of classes in local history conducted by the Executive Director. The classes are composed of high and grade-school pupils under the sponsorship of the school authorities. The classes are scheduled by groups and part of an afternoon is spent in the museum after which the Director gives a talk on the history of the city which, in turn, is followed by a question period. The average monthly attendance during the present season has been about 200 different children.

With the ever-present thought that the new of today becomes the antique or the history of tomorrow, the Society continues the discriminate collecting of material in all its fields. Accessions are through contribution as the Society's funds do not permit it to enter competitive markets.

Family Collections

ADAMS COLLECTION, 1806-86. 1,416 items.

Twenty-two account books of Dr. Charles Adams (1782-1875) who practiced medicine in Antrim, N. H., Oakham and North Brookfield, Mass., 1807-53. His son, Charles (1810-86), was very active in North Brookfield town affairs and in state and national politics, with no small reputation as a genealogist, historian, and public speaker.

Manuscripts in the collection of Charles Adams, Jr. consist of: Addresses written and delivered by Adams: Early Town Meeting Places, 1864; Sabbath School Anniversary, 1868; Tavern Keepers, 1870; Life of Robert Burns, 1873; Centennial Address at Antrim, N. H. 1877; North Brookfield Choir, 1881; Former Life and Manners, 1883; Old Oakham Days, 1883; Old and New New England Customs, 1883; North Brookfield, 1884; and short papers on various historical subjects, 1868-86. One large bundle of family and business letters, 1833-45; personal letters, 1872-86; letters relative to biographical notes and Brookfield history, 1879-83; letters from Henry E. Waite of Boston to Mr. Adams relative to history of North Brookfield, 1879-84. Historical and genealogical notes, 1872-86; notes concerning Antrim, N. H. residents, 1876-80; material collected while preparing sketch of North Brookfield, 1880-84; papers concerning Adams' appointment as town clerk, 1836-46; representative, 1851, 1852, 1862; justice of the peace, 1852-86; member of National Republican Committee, 1864; state senator, 1865-66, 1877-78; councillor, 1867-68, 1879-80; state treasurer, 1871-75. The following records are in the hands of Adams: Minutes of meetings, North Brookfield Lyceum, 1831-36, 96 pp. Deaths in Oakham, 1836-82, 50 pp.; acquisition book, 1864-65, 4 pp. and ledger, 1866, 104 pp. of North Brookfield Historical Society; description of stones in Old Burial Ground, West Brookfield, 1881; Births, Marriages and Deaths in North Brookfield, n. d.; book of notes compiled for North Brookfield town history, n. d.; cemetery records in North Brookfield, n. d.

BEAMAN COLLECTION, 1728-1866. Approx. 3000 items.

The Beaman collection is mainly that of Ezra Beaman (1736-1811) and his son Ezra (1770-1863). These two were very prominent men of their day in Shrewsbury, Boylston, and West Boylston. The father was an officer of the militia and later had a distinguished record in the Revolution beginning with the Bunker Hill fight. The items refer principally to Shrewsbury and Boylston town affairs; the incorporation of the towns of Boylston and West Boylston; the business enterprises of the family as inn holders, millers, storekeepers, and investors; and to the public life of Ezra, Sr. and his son as town officials and as active participants in the organization and building of churches and schools.

Church papers consist of the account of the controversy over the hiring of the Rev. Joseph Avery, of the church at Holden, and records of meetings and baptisms at this church, 1773-74; 18 papers relate to the incorporation expenses and support of the meetinghouse in the western part of Boylston, 1792, together with pew deeds, plans, church books, receipts, and church papers, 1793-1860; and 92 papers relating to the organization, building, preaching accounts, minutes of meetings, sale of pews, and sermons of the First Liberal Church in West Boylston, 1830-60. Correspondence of a personal nature was carried on by Ezra Beaman, Sr. and his son with the following: C. W. Harris, Holden, 1779; Jonathan Warner, Boylston, 1782 (copy); John Bacon, Boston, 1784; Jabez Beaman, Boston, 1784; Benjamin Gale, Shrewsbury, 1785; James H. Leatherbee, Boston, 1799; Israel Atherton, Lancaster, 1800; John Prentiss, Lancaster, 1806; Samuel Anderson, 1807; Samuel Dickinson, Amherst, State representative, 1809; William Caldwell, Worcester, 1809; Phebe Farr, 1813; Daniel Howe, Westminster, 1815; Thomas F. Blood, 1815; John Ballard, Lancaster, 1819; Josiah Flagg, Lancaster, 1822; Luther Allen, Sterling, 1826; Silas Holman, Bolton, 1836; Charles A. Mirick, Princeton, 1841; Mrs. Robert Rogerson, Boston, 1846-49; E. W. Bigelow and Caroline E. Howe, 1848; F. R. Palmer, Townsend, Vt., 1851; Maynard King, Geneseo, Ill., 1853; Seneca Miller, West Brattleboro, Vt., 1854; Elias Davis, Geneseo, Ill., 1857-58; Joel Fletcher, West Leominster, 1860; besides business letters with Pliny Earle and brothers, Leicester, concerning a machine for carding wool by water power and the possibility of putting one in Beaman's Mill, 1803; a lengthy correspondence with Samuel Slater of North Providence regarding the establishment of a factory and bleachery on Beaman's property, and arranging to purchase the water rights, buildings, and land from Ezra Beaman for $4,000, 1806-18; terms of an agreement with Robert Parkinson [of England] to whom Beaman is to deed a mill with water rights, for $5,000, to be used as a cotton factory, 1809, which Parkinson later deeds to John Slater & Co., 1812; paper giving privileges to John Slater & Co. to erect and operate a mill, 1815. There are court records of Inferior [Inferior] and Supremer [Superior] court sessions at Worster [Worcester], 1777; summons to Ezra Beaman to give evidence in case of Oliver Barnes vs. Daniel Harris, 1793; writ of attachment on goods or person of James Hart, schoolmaster, of Newmarket, N. H. 1795; summons to Joseph Cheney, blacksmith of West Boylston, vs. Jonathan Plimpton, yeoman re real estate transactions, 1817; writ of attachment on Jabez Bigelow and Solomon Parsons, traders, both of Worcester, against John Hammond, yeoman, for breach of contract, 1839. Seventy-five deeds of land in Lancaster, Shrewsbury, Boylston, and West Boylston belonging to the Beaman family, 1728-1866, together with those from Daniel Greenleaf, Bolton, to Jabez Beaman, 1745/6; Mephibostheth Bixby, Shrewsbury, to Jabez Beaman, 1750/1; Joseph Dinsmoor, Lancaster, to Ezra Beaman, Shrewsbury, 1775; and Joel Sawtell and wife, Dinah, Warren, R. I. to Calvin Winter, Boylston, 1813. Military papers consist of a receipt for "new Emission" in full by Aaron Sawyer, Shrewsbury, for his part of the hire of one Continental man for three years in "clas" to which he belonged in Lancaster, 1781; request of Luther Rice to John Avery, Secretary of Commonwealth of Massachusetts, that Ezra Beaman pay amount due Rice for services "at close of the war in the American service in Col. Crane's regiment of artillery in Capt. Seward's company in the Massachusetts line", 1790; part of a summons for John Sullen of Hardwick, to appear at the inn of Elijah Lyman to testify in case of Moses Harris and ten others against Isaac Powers, 1794; application of Abigail Waite for a pension in 1843, certifying that her late husband served as a private in the Revolution under Capt. Thomas Nixon of Southborough and Captain Gleason of Framingham in the years 1775-76 and about half of 1780, and that he also fought at Bunker Hill. There are isolated items concerning the construction and upkeep of schools, 1746-1809; an unsigned report of committee to settle accommodations in the several school squadrons in Boylston; plan of new schoolhouse to be erected, statement of cost of building, and a credit for the old school house sold to Jonas Temple, 1790; list of timber to be furnished by Sawyer for school house, 1791; list of materials furnished by individuals and material bought for the school house, 1797; record of school committee of Boylston, showing estimated cost of "keeping school by Joel Howes", also a list of the names of "Committee for examining", 1801; list of forty items against which are various names and amounts "for the Schoolhouse North of the River by Esq. Beaman's", 1809.

Besides the many loose business accounts, the collection has a separate group of volumes kept and written by four members of the Beaman family. The single papers are accounts, bills, and receipts, such as carried by a farmer and inn holder, 1757-1865, 254; and 96 similar papers with names other than Beaman as follows: the Rev. Mr. Fairbanks, Shrewsbury, 1783; Reuben Wilder, Lancaster, 1787; Capt. Joseph Bigelow, 1788; Robert Andrews, 1792; Aaron White to John Temple, 1811; Calvin Laynard to G. P. Brown, 1811; Nathaniel Bayley, 1812; Patience Hastings to Abijah Drury, 1812; Josiah and W. M. Steadman, Boston, 1818; Bardwell and Hoag to Dennis Keyes, 1818; John Houghton, tax collector of the town of Sterling, 1863. The earliest volume is that of John Beaman His Book, 1711, then follows an account book of Jabez Beaman, Shrewsbury, 1742-52. Records kept by Ezra Beaman, Sr. embrace 13 day books and journals of store, tavern, mill, and miscellaneous accounts, 1754-98; 5 account books of lumber, store, and tavern accounts, 1784-1808; ash books 1784-1814, [the Beamans dealt in hard wood ashes collected locally and shipped to soap works in Boston]; store and tavern ledgers, 1786-1811; account book for building Second Parish meetinghouse, 1793-1817; and a saw book, 1804. The group of volumes in Ezra Beaman Jr.'s collection consists of 3 composition and spelling books, 2 in 1785, 1 in 1787; 11 day books and journals of current and miscellaneous accounts, 1816-53; 4 saw books of material sawed and miscellaneous items, 1839-43; 3 books containing estate records, 1811-13, 1863, 1863-65; 2 weighing books, 1840-41, 1847-48; labor book, 1813-15; and a bound copy of state, town and county taxes for 1819. Volumes under the joint authorship of Ezra Beaman and Ezra Beaman Jr. cover: Day book and journal of current sales, accounts, and records of orders, 1795-96; record of all orders upon them as treasurers of Boylston, Holden, Sterling and West Boylston, 1797-1814; day book of current accounts to June, 1811 and notes by Ezra Beaman, Jr. of payment in settlement of father's estate, 1811-13; cash book, 1804-12, which also contains the docket of the court of common pleas of Worcester County from August 1808 to October 1812; miscellaneous notes relating to personal, precinct and town affairs, 1804-17; account book of grain sent to Harthan mill, 1809-10, and records of employees' work, 1818.

Beaman Collection cont'd

Ezra Beaman, Sr. died June 4, 1811 aged 75 years, and his son Ezra Beaman, Jr. was appointed one of the administrators of his estate. Papers relating to the settlement of this estate consist of appraisal of household effects, 1811; note of payment of sum of money to Mrs. Beaman, 1811; an account of services in "appraising and distributing real estate" of said deceased by Silas Holman, James Longley, and Jotham Bush, 1811; 238 statements and receipts regarding money expended in behalf of the Beaman estate, 1811-16; a list showing distribution of personal estate among various heirs, by Ezra Beaman, Jr., administrator, 1811; receipt to Mary and Ezra Beaman from Capt. Elijah Goodnow in settlement for judgment, 1812; state of one-third interest in estate, evidently Mrs. Beaman's share, 1812; an account of expenses incurred by Jabez Beaman including repairs and maintenance of grist mill, board for 42 weeks, and funeral expenses, 1812; notes of settling accounts with Mrs. Beaman, with Capt. Elijah Goodnow, 1812-13; receipt from Artemas Lardock to estate of Jabez Beaman, for making a coffin [coffin], 1812; release from all further claims against Ezra Beaman's estate, from estate of Francis Bigelow of Boston, 1812; receipt from Silas Holman and others for services in settling estate of Jabez Beaman, 1812; receipt to Josiah Hadley from Beaman estate, 1814; note due Ezra Beaman estate by John Temple, 1815; and a promissory note from Silas Dunsmoor, to Ezra Beaman, Jr., administrator, 1816.

A large portion of this collection consists of papers relating to the towns of Shrewsbury, Boylston, and West Boylston, wherein the two Beamans served in many official capacities, first in the mother town of Shrewsbury, then in Boylston and West Boylston as each was later set off. The Shrewsbury papers consist of: Receipts to selectmen of Bolton for boarding the schoolmaster, 1745; receipt for excise tax from Province of Massachusetts Bay, 1764; list of 16 persons assessed for repairing No. 2 squadron schoolhouse, 1768; notice to Ezra Beaman of meeting at which David Taylor, treasurer, transmits his office to his successor, Robert Holland, 1772; warning to inhabitants of Shrewsbury to send list of ratables to assessors, 1772; 86 promissory notes given by Ezra Beaman, Sr. and Ezra Beaman, Jr. 1773-1851; a petition for Ezra Beaman and 28 others that South Lancaster be set off from Lancaster and annexed to Shrewsbury, 1779; list of 14 names with amounts assessed, 1781; list of 19 bounty notes with interest on same, 1781; 4 receipts for excise tax on liquor and highway tax to Ezra Beaman, 1782-84; notice of assessments on inhabitants of 2nd precinct, signed by Ezra Beaman, treasurer, 1783; assessor's warrant for £95.13s.6d. has been committed to Ameriah Bigelow, tax collector, and ordered paid by him to Ezra Beaman, treasurer, after deducting £70 to be paid Rev. Eliazer Fairbanks as salary, 1783; committee of 2nd precinct notifies all inhabitants to meet at the meetinghouse to transact precinct business, 1784; appraisal of real estate of Samuel Estabrook for four heirs, Holden, 1784; 2 lists of jurors for the supreme court and for the court of common pleas, 1786; notice that taxes have been levied by assessors, £70 of the sum realized to be paid Rev. Eliazer Fairbanks for salary, 1786; notes of expense "that Joel Chase was at in the action with Caleb West", including fees of court, damages, and 2,000 miles travel, 1786; letter from selectmen of Boylston to Joseph Allen, clerk of court at Worcester, accompanying a return of votes from Boylston for the treasurer of Worcester County, 1786.

Boylston, the 2nd precinct, or North Parish, of Shrewsbury, 1742-86, became a town March 1, 1786, and among the Beaman papers are found records of the town's various offices as follows: Assessors: 30 notices sent to the town treasurer, calling for assessment for state, county, town, highway and parish taxes with lists of individuals so taxed, 1791-1838. Highway surveyors: Plans and surveys in Shrewsbury, 1772-99; account of expenses by John Peirce while surveying in town of Boylston, 1792; report of committee which agree to discontinue a road from Abel Kendall's home in Boylston to Fitchburg, and to reimburse affected parties, 1793; 2 reports by a committee giving layout of two highways, each two rods wide, 1793; certificate from Ephraim Beaman, surveyor, that Reuben Dens Moor has worked out his highway tax, 1794; notice from Silas Holman that a committee meet at Landlord Bowen's in Lancaster, to lay out road from Sterling to Lancaster, 1805; list of citizens, some owning oxen, who worked out their highway tax, 1818; a notice of meeting issued by Michael Gill, Westminster, to inhabitants of West Boylston concerns the laying out of a road, 1823; receipt from James Allen, surveyor, for payment of surveying route for road through West Boylston, 1827; appointment of a committee to apportion expense in surveying a road, 1829. Selectmen: List of 153 names sent to Ezra Beaman, treasurer, as voters for state officers and representatives in Congress for the town of Boylston, 1803; order issued to Ezra Beaman, surveyor of highways, to have the granted assessment used on the public roads and bridges that need repairing in the 2nd precinct of Boylston, Sterling, and Holden, within bounds of Boylston, 1807; 7 notices sent to treasurer qualifying the names of voters, 1808-33; list of "Highway Squadrons with their several limits within the town of West Boylston", 1810; notice to Reuben Wilder that the town has no further claim on effects of Abner Wilder, 1814; notice from Samuel Mason concern a wall made for him, 1815; a request for a meeting from the Worcester Board to the "Selectmen of the most Ancient Town" of West Boylston to meet in Shrewsbury to perambulate, run, and renew the dividing lines between said towns according to law, 1815; an application for a license from selectmen of Weston for one of their citizens to open a store in West Boylston, 1815; solicitation of relief by Worcester Citizens Committee, for the family of Nathaniel P. Flagg, fire sufferers, 1816; a claim for damage done to the Whitaker property by the building of a new road, 1819; statement of transfer of account of Jonathan Plympton, town treasurer, to Ezra Beaman and receipt of same from Beaman, 1819; 2 statements of partial settlement of treasurer, 1820, 1821; statement of committing to Barnabas Davis, treasurer, the back taxes uncollected by former collectors, 1815-20, less credit for military exemptions, 1821; settlement with Barnabas Davis, treasurer, 1822; statement of funds transmitted by Davis, treasurer, to his successor John Lees, 1822; notice of meeting of committee appointed by court of sessions to lay out a road in West Boylston, 1823. Town Clerk: A notice of $20 reward for the return of Aaron White's dapple gray horse stolen from him, 1803; notice to Ezra Beaman as a member of the committee to settle Oliver Sawyer's account and to meet at Sawyer's house for that purpose, 1807. Treasurer: Unsigned report of committee examining "account of Capt. Joseph Bigelow, treasurer of Boylston", 1788; a report of the committee chosen to reckon with the town treasurer, 1792; account of expenses of Ezra Beaman in early attempts to incorporate West Boylston, 1792-96; an account with Elisha Prouty, and on verso, a list of "Faml's, Souls & Polls" of Holden, Boylston, Sterling, and one family of Worcester, 1795; parish tax accounts of Ezra Beaman, Sr. and Ezra Beaman Jr., Jabez Beaman, and "Ruben" Keyes for 1797; 93 orders drawn on treasurer for various purposes and a list of precinct committees and assessors, 1797-1808; an account of money paid 17 persons and 12 orders drawn on Ezra Beaman, 1797;

BRIGHAM COLLECTION, 1729-1847. 75 pieces.

Two members of the Brigham family were among the proprietors of the Plantation of Massanamisco (Grafton) and a part of the original grant is still occupied by their descendants. Charles (1700-1781) held every local public office, one time representative to the general court and also, under the appointment of the Royal Governor, a magistrate. His son, William (1739-1833), had little taste for public affairs. Charles (1769-1847), eldest son of William, was like his grandfather, very active in town affairs, and served as officer in the militia from 1792 to 1809.

Church papers consist of articles of faith and church discipline, a record of the council forming the church, and notes of meetings of the United Brethren of the Baptist Church of Christ in Grafton, 1767-87; record of sale of pew No. 19 in the meetinghouse at Grafton to William Brigham, 1785; deed of pew in the meetinghouse at Westborough to William Brigham, 1789; and a quitclaim deed to one-half of pew No. 37 in Congregational meetinghouse in Grafton from Charles Brigham, 1847. A deed titled, "Copy from the Proprietors' Records", covers two acres and 126 rods of land surveyed for a highway through the Brigham land, 1729, filed with which are rough maps of plots of land. Other deeds are for land in Grafton and vicinity conveyed by: Joseph Rice, 1732; Amos Wait, 1750; Richard Roberts, 1750; Nathaniel Sherman, 1752, 1767; David and Edward Goddard, 1767; Phineas Rice and wife, 1772; William Brigham, 1782, 1794; Timothy Sherman and wife, 1785; Ebenezer Sadler and wife, 1786; Ephraim Mower, 1787; Daniel Rand and wife, 1797; Stephen Rice and wife, 1801, 1803; Oliver Stone, 1840; Charles Brigham, 1847. Military papers contain not only commissions to Charles Brigham, Jr., in Co. A, 2nd Regt., 2nd Brig., 7th Div. as 4th sergeant in 1792, 1st sergeant in 1794; lieutenant in 1803; and captain in 1804, but the following regimental orders: Lt. Brigham orders Sgt. Goddard, Nathaniel Adams, Joseph Elleck, Oliver Hayden, and Calvin Pierce to meet for election of captain, 1804; Lt. Col. Jason Ware orders Captain Brigham to meet at Munroe's inn at Northboro for consultation, 1804; Gov. Caleb Strong gives Captain Brigham directions re orderly sergeant, 1805; Adj. Jason Ware orders Captain Brigham to "parade" his company by the meetinghouse at Grafton on Aug. 7, 1807; Adj. Jason Ware orders Captain Brigham to have his company fully equipped and assembled at Grafton meetinghouse for military duty on Sept. 18, 1807; Brig. Gen. Silas Holman to Captain Brigham, concerns muster roll of his company, 1807. Muster roll of Captain Brigham's company with list of 55 names, 1808; discharge papers of Brigham from office of captain of militia, 1809.

This collection also contains: Description and plan of land surveyed by Hezekiah Ward, 1742; bond guaranteed by pledge and receipted by Josiah Quincy, 1760; writs of attachment issued by Charles Brigham, J. CONANT COLLECTION: 1796-1892. Approx. 3,225 items.

Edwin Conant (1810-1904) was born in Sterling, Mass., graduated from Harvard College, 1829, studied law in Worcester, 1829-32, and began to practice law in Sterling, 1833. After his marriage, he moved to Worcester and continued his law practice under different partnerships until 1853. From then on, other business interests which he conducted either alone or with partners occupied the major part of his time. There are very few localities around Worcester in which Edwin Conant had neither clients nor interests. There are some manuscripts of Jacob Conant, his father, who had wide interests in various Worcester County towns. Filed with the Conant Collection are the papers of Rejoice Newton, the legal partner of Conant. When Edwin Conant died he willed his residence to the Worcester Natural History Society, which now occupies it as a museum.

Business papers consist of deeds and legal papers concerning transactions mostly in Worcester County, 1796-1889; personal and business notes, bills, and receipts of Jacob and Edwin Conant, 1817-92. The family and business letters of Jacob and Edwin Conant, and Rejoice Newton, refer almost entirely to legal affairs, 1817-92. There are short papers on nature subjects prepared by Edwin Conant and others, evidently for the Natural History Society in which Conant was much interested, 1848-58; genealogical notes of Conant family, n. d.; 2 photographs of Edwin Conant, n. d.; and various small personal memoranda.

Twenty-one volumes of Edwin Conant's deal principally with his law practice. They cover notes on law cases 1829-36, 150 pp.; commonplace book, 1830, 148 pp.; arithmetic book, 1830; 3 vols. of notes on law lectures, Harvard Law School, 1831, 165 pp., 131 pp., 171 pp.; action book on cases when Conant was justice of the peace, 1832-51, 88 pp.; court of common pleas docket, 1832-43, 65 pp.; notes on legal cases, 1833-41, 120 pp.; 1839, 17 pp.; cash book, 1835-42, 57 pp., 1837-39, 41 pp., 1837-40, 53 pp.; Newton and Conant cash book, 1837-41, 68 pp.; account of Jacob Conant's estate, 1837-39, 35 pp.; law ledger, 1837-41, 85 pp.; record of cases heard before Conant when justice of the peace, 1837-41, 22 pp.; record of inventories of various estates, 1842-45, 8 pp.; booklet kept by Conant as member of a Republican political committee in Worcester, 1856-62; deposit book in City National Bank, 1885-88; and one volume of notes on law, n. d. 170 pp.

EARLE COLLECTION, 1789-1888. 356 items.

Members of the Earle family were among the original settlers of Leicester, in 1717. Pliny Earle (1762-1832) began the manufacture of hand cards, and, in 1797, invented a machine to pierce leather for card clothing. The patent, granted in 1803, contained the basic principles of all machines for the manufacture of twilled cards. His son, William B. (1802-91), assisted his father and added improvements to the machine design. He was a staunch defender of the Quaker sect, prominent in the anti-slavery movement, and carried on an extensive correspondence with Federal officials regarding national currency. John Milton Earle (1794-1874) was editor of the Massachusetts Spy [later the Worcester Spy] and was active in state politics.

Pliny Earle papers are made up of family letters; business letters with Almy-Brown, Providence, R. I., and Samuel Slater, No. Providence, R. KELLEY-FOSTER COLLECTION, 1837-93. 118 items.

This collection treats of Abby Kelley (1811-87) and her conversion to the anti-slavery cause in 1837; her subsequent activities as an agitator and organizer of anti-slavery societies; her marriage in 1845 to Stephen S. Foster, also an abolitionist; and their experiences not only connected with the cause of anti-slavery, but later with that of woman's suffrage and prohibition. Mrs. Foster's only written account of her experiences as an early advocate of freedom is particularly valuable. She was the earliest female platform speaker who continued to work for the cause. The Fosters lived in Worcester.

Letters written by Abby Kelley to her sister concern family affairs and her travels, 1837, 1838, 1845; those to Stephen S. Foster concern personal and public affairs, 1844-50; while one to her daughter, Alla, written in 1883, contains reminiscences of her life. Personal letters from Stephen to Abby Kelley Foster, 1856-93; letters addressed to Abby and Stephen Foster from such individuals as Wendell Phillips, Parker Pillsbury, Thomas Wentworth Higginson, John Greenleaf Whittier, Charles F. Hovey, William Lloyd Garrison, William H. Channing, Lucy Stone and J. A. Collins, deal mostly with anti-slavery affairs, 1837-82. A handwritten copy of a letter by John Greenleaf Whittier to Benjamin Ames of Philadelphia, in 1840, concerns Abby Kelley's activities in Philadelphia. Miscellaneous papers: marriage certificate of Stephen Foster and Abby Kelley, handwritten and signed by the principals and 33 witnesses according to Quaker custom, and on verso are birth records of Abby, Stephen, and Alla Foster; a deed from Polly Cook et al to Stephen S. and Abby Kelley Foster for land in Worcester, 1847; travel expense accounts; address list; list of subscriptions to Ohio Anti-Slavery Society, Western Anti-Slavery Society, Anti-Slavery Standard, Liberator and Anti-Slavery Buzle, kept by Abby Kelley Foster, 1846-50; cash book of Foster family, 1874-86; general and family expenses, and cash receipts, 1874-86.

MERRIFIELD COLLECTION, 1767-1890. 160 items.

Alpheus and William T. Merrifield were influential in the development of Worcester's manufacturing industries. The Merrifield buildings, erected in 1839, were destroyed in 1854 by the most disastrous fire in the history of Worcester. After being re-built to extend some eleven hundred feet on Union Street, they housed many of the city's leading industries at one time or another. Judge William T. Forbes married Harriette, the daughter of William T. Merrifield.

Papers in this collection are made up of business bills and receipts, 1805-82; 70 deeds and leases for land in Westborough and Worcester, most of which pertain to the White family of Westborough, 1767-1863; and inventories of estates, 1841, 1853, 1866; membership certificate in Massachusetts Horticultural Society, 1860, and certificate of life membership in Worcester Y. M. C. A., 1870, issued to William T. Merrifield; membership certificate in American Home Missionary Association to Harriette Merrifield, 1883. Four papers belonging to William F. Forbes are included: His appointment as judge of probate, 1888, and as justice of the peace, 1890; and certificates of his election to the Massachusetts Senate, 1885, 1886.

SUMNER COLLECTION, 1727-1887. 296 items.

This collection centers around the Rev. Joseph Sumner (1740-1824). He graduated from Yale College in 1759 and began his ministry at Shrewsbury, Mass., in 1762, where he served until his death in 1824. He received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from Harvard College in 1814, and from Columbia College shortly afterward. The church papers largely concern controversies in various parishes in Worcester County in which Mr. Sumner served on the councils. Later papers and volumes are those of his descendants. Filed with the manuscripts are 12 issued of the Weekly Star, published by Edward P. Sumner in 1879; board-ing school circulars and notices, 1880-82; business cards left by various salesmen [Ed. note: George Sumner was in the dry goods business at one time]; and stereoscopic slides of Columbia, S. C.

The church papers include sermons and church notes, 1727-1802; council reports, and letters regarding controversies, written by the Rev. Joseph Sumner to churches in the following towns: Fitchburg, Paxton, Auburn, Bolton, Petersham, Westminster, Marlboro, Mass., Cheshire, and Temple, N. H., Pomfret, Conn., 1770-1807; receipts for salary, 1789-1807; marriage intentions signed by various town clerks, 1790-1841. Receipt book of Rev. Job Cushing [Sumner's predecessor] 1763-93; surveyor's notes, 1816-32, 156 pp.; constitution and secretary's book of Shrewsbury United Agricultural Society, 1811-19, general store ledger of Erastus Sumner, 1820-52, 284 pp., and journal, 1822-26, 369 pp.; account book of settlement of various estates in Shrewsbury, 1821-31, 160 pp.; cash account and notations of George Sumner, 1847-57. A few remaining papers are made up of personal letters passed between George Sumner and Laura Drury, 1787-1880; deeds conveying land in Shrewsbury to members of the Sumner family, 1769-1844; 8 Old Farmer's Almanacs annotated with personal entries by George Sumner, 1880-87; and a list of members in Shrewsbury Rifle Company, n. d.

WALDO COLLECTION, 1742-1866. 135 items.

Daniel Waldo (1724-1808) came to Worcester in 1782 and started a hardware store into which he took his son, Daniel, Jr., (1763-1845), as a partner. This partnership was dissolved in 1791 and the business was continued by the son. Father and son built up what was considered a large fortune at that period and were prominent in Worcester business affairs. Each of them served as president of the Worcester (National) Bank. Daniel Waldo, Jr., was the first president of the Worcester County Institution for Savings, president of the Worcester Agricultural Society, and was connected with many other institutions.

The collection contains 100 deeds of land in Worcester and vicinity, 1742-1845; 22 legal papers, 1787-1845; 6 personal receipts, 1787-1809; 4 personal letters, 1787-1824; invoices and general store accounts, 1805-17.

Worcester Natural History Society Collection

WORCESTER NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY COLLECTION, 1829-1909. 1,777 items.

Manuscript material contains much of value in the closely interwoven history of the many associations and societies which began in 1829 and finally resulted in the survival of the original educational purpose and the rather unusual side issue, the huge Worcester Free Public Library. The collection begins with the record of the organization of the Worcester Lyceum in 1829, and is followed by the organization records of the Young Men's Rhetorical Society in 1849. The Young Men's Library Association was formed in 1853. In 1854 the Natural History Department of the Library Association was started by the Rev. Edward Everett Hale. There was a temporary merger of the Rhetorical Society and Library Association in 1855. The Lyceum joined with the Library Association after the withdrawal of the Rhetorical Society in 1856 under a new name, the Worcester Lyceum and Natural History Society. The libraries accumulated by all these societies were added to the private collection of Dr. John Green to become the nucleus of the Worcester Free Public Library, in 1856. This left the Natural History Department the major interest of the latest merger, which continued to flourish to the extent that in 1884 the name was changed to the Worcester Natural History Society. In 1886, a summer camp for nature study was established on the shore of Lake Quinsigamond.

The growth of the foregoing organizations may be traced through the following records: Record of organization meeting, Worcester Lyceum, 1829, 2 pp. and catalogue of its members, 1830, 5 pp. Constitution and secretary's book, Worcester Young Men's Rhetorical Society, 1849, 112 pp. Treasurer's books, Young Men's Rhetorical Society, 1849-53, 36 pp., 1853-74, 48 pp. Secretary's records; Young Men's Rhetorical Society, 1850-53, 200 pp., and 2 vols., 1853-69, 372 and 220 pp. Cash books and membership lists of the Young Men's Christian Association, 1852-53; the Worcester Lyceum and Library Association, 1854-56; the Worcester Lyceum and Natural History Association, 1880-83; and the Worcester Natural History Society, 1883, 104 pp. Record of meetings, Young Men's Rhetorical Society, 1852-54, 160 pp., Organization records of the Natural History Department of the Young Men's Library Association, 1854-62, 100 pp., and treasurer's account, 1856-63. Record of attendance and report of the trustees' meetings of the Young Men's Rhetorical Society, 1855-57, 36 pp. Curator's book, department of ichthyology. Natural History Department of Young Men's Library Association, 1859. Treasurer's book, Worcester Lyceum and Natural History Association, 1866-82, 160 pp. General expense accounts, Worcester Lyceum and Natural History Association, 1866-68. Record of meetings, Young Men's Rhetorical Society, 1869-78. Inventory, Library of Young Men's Rhetorical Society, October 9, 1873, 328 pp. Record of attendance of gatherings and anniversaries, Young Men's Rhetorical Society, 1873-99. Treasurer's book, Worcester Natural History Society, 1887-90, Natural History Park Account, 1887-90. Journal and cash account, Natural History Society, 1891-1909, 178 pp.

Some of the members of these societies were authorities on botany and ornithology. A number of papers were composed by them and are on file here. Article on history of botany, by Jonathan French, 1840, 41 pp., 22 copies of Rhetorical Gazette, handwritten, compiled monthly by members of the society, 1851-67. Sixteen copies of The Vine, articles written semi-monthly by members of the society, 1851-58. Article on the blue jay by J. C. Williams, 1855. Article on the red wing oriole, by C. H. Mosely, 1856.
